Updated DOH Guidance: Highlights

- Face covering guidance updated throughout, and refers back to Department of Labor & Industries (L & I) guidance.
- Staff must wear cloth facial coverings when not working alone, unless their exposure dictates a higher level of protection under L&I safety and health rules and guidance.
 - Refer to Coronavirus Facial Covering and Mask Requirements

Updated DOH Guidance Highlights

- Group sizes should total no more than 22 people. This count includes each child, youth and adult.
- Do not combine groups, including at opening and closing, and keep staffing the same within each group every day.
- If you can, keep the same groups from day-to-day to reduce the number of children, youth and staff from multiple households who are interacting.
- Physical distancing, cohorts, hand hygiene, ventilation and other practices are essential in reducing the transmission of the virus.

Updated DOH Guidance Highlights

- Removes play structure restrictions.
 - Guidance for cleaning outdoor areas added.
 - Outdoor areas, like playgrounds, generally require normal routine cleaning, but do not require disinfection.
 - Do not spray disinfectant on outdoor playground equipment. It is not an efficient use of supplies and is not proven to reduce risk of COVID-19 to the public.
 - High-touch surfaces made of plastic or metal, such as grab bars and railings, should be routinely cleaned.
- Updated resource section.

In-Service Training

- Providers don't need to do anything right now.
 - The timeline to complete in-service training restarts on July 1. You will have 12 months (June 30, 2021) to complete 10 training hours.
- If you want to do training right now, DCYF can help you find training:
 - Search MERIT or find training from DCYF partners: Child Care Aware, Imagine Institute and School's Out Washington. Many are offered at no cost to the provider.
 - Contact the DCYF professional development team if you need additional help or want to plan for your entire center or program: MERIT@dcyf.wa.gov.
- New staff can take shortened versions of both the CPR and the health and safety trainings, and complete the hands-on portions later.
 - Do this by taking the online CPR class and the Health and Safety Independent Modules available on DCYF's online learning portal.
